

Lori L. Schuster

From: [REDACTED]
Sent: Wednesday, January 3, 2018 2:24 PM
To: webmaster@asc.gov
Subject: "Fake appraiser shortage"

Follow Up Flag: Follow up
Flag Status: Flagged

Hello,

How low can some banks and AMC's go to pretend there is an appraiser shortage when they are really saying they DO NOT want to pay appraisers a decent fee! Yes, there may be a "shortage" of appraisers willing to work for "peanuts" but not if a decent fee is offered. This is a ridiculous claim intended to manipulate and further push appraisers out of business.

Appraisers have been victims of government over-regulations and also corrupt AMC's that steal part of our hard earned fees to line their own pockets. We appraisers get nothing of value in return! Ask appraisers why no one with any brains wants to enter this business and you'll get the real truth!

Again, there is no appraisal "shortage" - just a shortage of those of us not willing to work for low substandard fees!

Thank you.

[REDACTED]
Santa Cruz, CA